Our Sunday return time is more of an estimate than usual. Part of being at a national tournament is experiencing the very top echelon of competition, so we will stay for the finals, which could reasonably end anywhere between 3:00 and 5:00pm. I'm planning to do something fun/cultural with the team after the tournament, since team bonding time is also an essential part of our nationals experience. Because the ending time is so variable, and because this will be a Sunday, we're still figuring out what our activity will be as of April 22. This sheet will be updated when we have a solution.
